McCleary clung to his story of the ghosts, whom he said were impersonated by officers of the law.

Lieutenant Barber, of the Hagerstown police force, was one of the men, who dressed in a white sheet and gave the blood curdling warnings that finally broke down the boy's spirit, according to McCleary's belief.

Climbed On His Body.

Picturing the damp, dismal cell in Hagerstown's "haunted prison," Mc-Cleary said that the lizards climbed over the walls and on the floor, and up onto his body. He had to burn his blankets to drive these nauseaus reptiles forth.

The bluish lights on the walls, he afterward learned were the lights of a searchlamp such as officers carry, he declared

Asked why he didn't try to catch Asked why he cidn't try to catch the human ghosts. McCleary answered that his mind was so fraught with the terror of te tales he had eard in his boyhood that he could not move. He was afraid. In this terrible frame of mind, the sterned that reference that the could not make the sterned that the the signed the confession, he declared— the confession on which the State new relies strongly to prove that McCleary actually strangled Mrs. Henry because he was infuriated at her refusal to per-mit him to see his exceptions.

SPECIAL NOTICES

THOUSANDS OF DWELLINGS of the plain people of this District have been built, bought, or finally paid for by our long-time monthly payment loans, and the money is always ready for more. May run twelve years if you wish, without any extension trouble or expense, and may be reduced at any time in any amount. All repayments share in net profits, just like savings accounts. accounts.

The only costs of getting a loan are the valuation fee, verification of title, and drawing and recording our short-form deed of trust; all at rates special to ourselves.

We have over six thousand saving and of trust: all at rates special to ourselves. We have over six thousand saving and borrowing over six thousand saving and borrowing members, and still growing; so you can hear about us almost anywhere in the District.

If you want a real estate loan, to be settled by easy and prolonged monthly payments, and all you pay back earning money for you, come and see us.
